With the current version, that can only be done manually. Edit the file "com_videoflow/classes/vf_transparent.php", specifically, the function "createConsole". You may also need to edit "com_videoflow/templates/joomla/css/vf_transparent.css" to fine tune the layout.

I have tried to modify the file "com_videoflow / templates / joomla / css / vf_transparent.css" commented "/*", but the result was not what you want. Se e photo attached. where I do you wrong.

/* ---------- Videoflow styles for VF_Transparent template -------- */

/* ---------- Use Firebug in FireFox to identity the divisions ---- */

/*img.vinfo {

  float: right;

  border:1px solid;

  width:100px;

```
  margin: 0px 0px 2px 2px;

My explanation in my previous post wasn't clear. I have edited it.

Instead, do the following:

1. Open "com_videoflow/classes/vf_transparent.php" in a text editor.

2. Depending on what you want to hide, comment out the relevant code blocks under the function "createConsole".

3. If you want to hide everything except the player, for example, comment out the code from:

up to:

```
 echo ''; //End controls div

4. You may also need to edit the file "com_videoflow/templates/joomla/css/vf_transparent.css" to adjust the layout.
